

Parents' Guide to the Key Stage 1 Phonics Screening Test

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the phonics screening check?

The phonics screening check is a short, light-touch assessment to confirm whether individual children have learnt phonic decoding to an appropriate standard. The checks consist of 40 words and non-words that your child will be asked to read one-on-one with a teacher.

It will identify the children who need extra help so they are given support by their school to improve their reading skills. They will then be able to retake the check so that schools can track children until they are able to decode.

Frequently Asked Questions

Who is it for?

The screening check is for all Year 1 pupils and children in Year 2 who previously did not meet the standard of the check in Year 1.

Is it compulsory?

Yes. It is a statutory requirement for all schools to carry out the screening check.

Do children with Special Education Needs have to take the screening check?

It should be taken by as many children as possible, and the Government have worked closely with SEND specialists to make this happen.

Where necessary, adjustments will be made and appropriate guidance provided.

For children who are working well below the level of the screening check (for example, if they have shown no understanding of letter-sound correspondences), there will be a disapplication process so they do not have to take part. Parents will be informed if a child is disapplied.

Frequently Asked Questions

When does it happen?

Schools will be able to administer the check at any time that suits them during the week starting Monday 11th June. If a child is absent during that week, the school can administer the check up until the 22nd June.

Who carries out the screening check?

A teacher who is known to the child will carry out the test. Administering the phonics check requires a teacher's professional judgement.

How long does the check take?

Every child is different, but most children take between four and nine minutes to complete the assessment.

Frequently Asked Questions

How is the check structured?

It will be a short, simple screening check to make sure that all children have grasped fundamental phonic skills. It comprises a list of 40 words and non-words, which a child will read one-to-one with a teacher. Half of the words cover phonic skills which tend to be covered in Reception, and half of the words are based on Year 1 phonic skills.

What are 'non-words?'

The check will contain a mix of real words and 'non words' (nonsense words.) Your child will be told before the check that there will be non-words that he or she has not seen before. We use 'non words' when we teach phonics, so your child should be familiar with the concept. 'Non words' are important because 'words' such as 'vap' or 'jound' are new to all children . Children cannot read the non words by using their memory or vocabulary, they have to use their decoding skills. This is a fair way to assess their ability to decode.

Frequently Asked Questions

Why are 'non-words' used in the test?

Non-words are included because they will be new to all children, so there won't be a bias to those with a good vocabulary knowledge or visual memory of words. Children who can read non-words should have the skills to decode almost any unfamiliar word. The non-words are presented alongside a picture of an imaginary creature, and children can be told the non-word is the name of that type of creature. This helps children to understand the non-word should not be matched to their existing vocabulary.

Isn't it stressful to test such young children?

The assessment is age-appropriate, with children sitting with a teacher who they know. Reading one-to-one with a teacher is a familiar activity for Key Stage 1 children. It should be an enjoyable activity for children and takes no more than a few minutes.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the pass mark?

The threshold in 2017 was 32 words out of 40.

The pass mark for 2018 is unknown to teachers and will be revealed after the screening check in June.

What skills do children need to meet the standard of the phonics screening check?

All children need to be able to identify sounds associated with different letters, and letter combinations, and then blend these sounds together to correctly say the word on the page.

The same skill is needed whether the word is a real word or a non-word. The words gradually get harder through the check as the combinations of letters become more complicated. Children will also need to recognise 'alternative' sounds in real words, such as 'y' in the word happy having the pronunciation 'ee'.

Frequently Asked Questions

What happens if a child does not meet the standard?

The screening check will identify children who have phonic decoding skills below the level expected for the end of Year 1 and who therefore need extra help. Schools will be expected to provide extra help and children will then be able to retake the assessment in Year 2.

Won't children who have not met the standard feel like a failure?

Children should not realise that they are being formally assessed. The check should be seen as part of their everyday phonics activities and not as a test. The result will provide teachers with information required for developing a child's skills.

How will the results from the phonics screening check be used?

Schools' results will not be published, although all schools will tell parents their child's results.

Frequently Asked Questions

The websites 'Oxford Owl' and 'Mr Thorne Does Phonics' have audio links you can use to hear the correct pronunciation of the sound, as well as a range of resources.

How can I help my child at home?

Practise a mix of 'non- words' and real words.

kigh

girst

baim

Ask your child to draw 'sound buttons' underneath each sound, to show they can correctly identify each one.

Say all the sounds individually then put the word together.

k-igh = kigh

g - ir - s - t = girst

b -ai ---m = baim

REAL WORDS

argue	invite	pursue	sort
bead	jaunty	queue	sphinx

Phonics Play has some excellent resources using 'non words'.

Letters and Sounds has some simple flash cards that can be printed at home for children to practise with and draw sound buttons onto.

 Don't forget about your reading books and library books. Practising reading daily automatically helps with decoding!
